

This half term in N Rosen, we will be exploring...

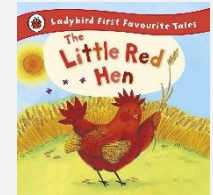

Literacy

In Literacy, we will be sharing two key texts, Happy to Be Me and Pete the Cat. We will give meaning to marks on our drawings and begin to make marks that stand for our name, as well as recognising our name with visual support. We will also share a variety of stories, songs and rhymes to support our developing phonological awareness and our growing knowledge of the concepts about print.

Maths

In Maths, we will be exploring comparison by looking at collections of small and large amounts. We will be thinking about shape by identifying different shapes in our environment and beginning to describe them. We will use song, rhymes and stories to explore pattern by joining in with repeats and develop our counting skills by practising saying number names in order.

'Super, Duper, Me!'

This half term, our topic is 'Super, Duper, Me!'. We will be continuously developing our familiarity with new friends and key workers as we settle into a new setting. We will be getting to know each other, sharing details about our homes, family and pets and talk about things that are important to us. We will become familiar with new routines and begin to develop an awareness of expectations at school.

In 'Learn and Explore Time', we will create our own self-portraits, explore our senses through various provision and link this to our body parts. We will talk about how we can look after ourselves with a visit from a Dental Nurse and also identify some features of Autumn by celebrating Harvest.
